

Eazi Access

The highly recommended “Eazi Access” radiator cover has been specially designed to provide complete access to the heater and associated pipework by means of a hinged and fully removable front panel. This makes it particularly suitable for hospitals and all areas where infection control and cleaning is a major priority.

The removable, quick release, front panel is fully lockable with a key and is attached with security fixings. It gives instant access for cleaning and maintenance. This allows for easy retrieval of small items such as pens, coins, tablets and other items that may have been inserted into the radiator cover.

The front panel completely removed ensures full access to the radiator preventing obstructions and trip hazards in busy and confined areas without the need for maintenance staff being involved.

The Eazi Access radiator cover has proved to be a major step forward and is already playing an important role in infection control at all levels.

Anti-Microbial Paint, robust 2mm high quality steel and other optional extras are available.
